

THOSE RHEUMATIC TWINGES

Much of the rheumatic pain that comes in damp, changing weather is the work of uric acid crystals. Needles couldn't cut, tear or hurt any worse when the affected muscle joint is used. If such attacks are marked with headache, backache, dizziness and disturbances of the urine, it's time to help the weakened kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills quickly help sick kidneys.

A Michigan Case
Joseph Hoover, 38 S. Catherine St., Bay City, Mich., says: "My back got so bad I couldn't bend over. I often became so dizzy I had to sit down and rest. Doctors had failed to help me, and I was growing thin and weak. Doan's Kidney Pills went right to the spot, three boxes curing me completely. I have had no trouble since."

Costs Less Than a Two-Cent Postage-Stamp

An average of less than a cent and a third a pair is paid for the use of all our machines in making two-thirds of the shoes produced in the United States—assuming that all our machines are used. The most that can be paid for the use of all our machines in making the highest-priced shoes is less than 5% cents a pair. The average royalty on all kinds of shoes is less than 2-3 cents a pair. From this we get our sole return for the manufacture and use of the machines, for setting them up in factories and keeping them in order. You pay two cents for a postage stamp or a yeast-cake and five cents for a car fare and don't miss it. Where do you get more for your money than in buying a machine-made shoe?

VEILING MUST BE PLentiful

Without a Liberal Supply of Material It is Impossible to Get the Proper Effect.

It is poor economy to buy too scant measure when purchasing face veiling. A smartly adjusted veil can never have a skimpy effect, as when the back of veiling is straining at the edges of the veil pin, or when there is not sufficient material left at the ends to be tucked from view. Wide veiling and plenty of it must be used on even a small hat. An excellent idea is to have elastic cording run through the meshes of the veil at the top, being so measured as to fit firmly at the base of the crown. This method avoids the pinning of the veil to the hat brim, which is never a very secure way of fastening it and is difficult to do if the hat brim is stiff, and is apt to leave pin marks in any event. The fulness should be evenly distributed around the crown and the edges of the veil at the bottom caught at the nape of the neck with a veil pin or barette. The ends are then drawn straight up to the back of the brim and invisibly tucked under the elastic at the crown. When the veil loses its freshness and begins to sag at the chin twist this portion round and round and tuck it under its own surface; this will give trimness to the otherwise untidy appearance.

WAYS OF FINDING PARTNERS

Some New and Original Ideas Which Intending Hostesses May Find of Real Value.

A correspondent kindly tells of these ways to find partners: "One girl had condumrums written on cards and given to the girls; the answers to these were handed to the gentlemen and they were numbered corresponding with the numbers on the girls' cards; they were told to find who their partners were. Another girl had the girls' names written backward on cards and handed them to the gentlemen and told them to make out who their partners were. Another girl had a small piece cut out of the card; the pieces were given to the girls and the other portions of the cards were given to the gentlemen and they were told to look for the girl who held the card corresponding with theirs. Another put the girls' names on cards and they were put in envelopes and sealed and hid in different places in the parlor."

END OF LONG FIGHT

EXPEDITION SEEMS TO BE RULE OF THE HOUR.

THE NEBRASKA LAWMAKERS

Brief Mention of the Work Being Done by Nebraska Solons in the Houses of Legislature.

Recommended for Passage.

After the most extensive discussion given any bill before the present session of the legislature, the big code insurance measure, containing 183 sections and a hundred or more amendments, was finally recommended for passage by the house by a vote of 44 to 28. It has been diligently considered for a day and a half and one night session of four hours. Possibly a hundred amendments had been offered in the course of the tedious debate. On roll call whether to recommend it for passage or not twenty-five members explained their votes. Although it was close to midnight, the utmost silence prevailed. Just a few of the anxious insurance men who have fought bitterly since first the bill came into the hands of the senate standing committee were on hand to see the vote which probably means the final passage of the bill.

Committee Getting Busy.

For the first time this session the house worked Saturday, devoting its time to work in committee of the whole and recommended for passage among others, Grossman's senate bill for a non-partisan judiciary; S. F. 310 by Dodge, prohibiting doctors from dividing fees and the senate bill by Cordell known as the Blue Sky law intended to prevent fraud in the sale of bonds, securities, the promotion of corporations, etc. The house amended the real estate sections out of the bill, making it much less drastic than it came from the senate.

Amend Marriage Laws.

Among the laws passed by the senate that may be of public interest is the bill by Saunders amending the marriage laws in the state to the effect that the state will not in the future recognize as valid a marriage performed in another state effecting divorced persons in Nebraska. It is contrary to the decree of the court granting the divorce. Among other bills passed by the senate were the house bill by Regan, requiring a full crew on light locomotives running between division points. House roll No. 691 by Mockett, providing a commission to investigate the feasibility of reforesting the barren said hills of Nebraska; four separate bills by Fries, relating to the survey and survey records of lands in Nebraska; H. R. 321 by Morris, providing for a state live stock sanitary board, and the Stebbins bill making a uniform charge of 25 cents for 10 word telegrams within the state.

Anti-Discrimination Bill Passes.

The senate has finally disposed of H. R. 645, the anti-discrimination bill, by passing it without the emergency clause. Much opposition developed against the bill and it was passed after one of the hardest battles that has taken place in the senate.

Sterilization Bill.

After having been dodged for several days because of the known opposition to it, the Heasty sterilization bill was put up for passage again and after a slight struggle was put through by a bare margin.

The house has passed the bill appropriating $35,000 for the establishment of a binding twine factory at the state penitentiary, but refused to authorize the appropriation of a working capital to conduct the operation of the factory, believing that by the time the equipment representing the present appropriation is in place another legislature will be in session ready to deal with the question of the future of this venture.

Two or three party pledges were redeemed by the house in the passage of bills Friday. Among them was the binding twine factory bill, carrying an appropriation of $35,000 for machinery and equipment and nothing for working capital. The state board of control is given discretion in the matter.

University Removal Still in Air.

The question of university removal still hangs in the air without final decision or indication thereof. During the week a meeting of the joint committee of senate and house on this important matter made no progress. A resolution introduced into the committee precipitated the wet and dry question for the moment. A motion was made that whether the university remained on the city campus or the state farm, that the bill be amended to declare that no license for the sale of liquor should be issued for any locality within three blocks of the university.

Hang Up Blouses.

To keep blouses fresh and unrumpled screw five hooks into a piece of broomhandle about two feet long. Opposite the middle hook fix a large screw-eye through which the bar may be hung from a small pulley attached to the cupboard or wardrobe ceiling. Put the blouses on clothes hangers, slip one on each hook, and pull the whole up into the empty space in center of cupboard.

INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By E. O. SELLERS, Director of Evening Department The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)

LESSON FOR APRIL 20

JACOB'S MEETING WITH ESAU.

LESSON TEXT—Gen. 32:1-15.

GOLDEN TEXT—"Be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving each other even as God also in Christ forgave you." Eph. 4:32 R. V.

We are about to lose sight of Jacob, "a cheat," and we shall hereafter consider Israel, "a prince." While Jacob is not so grand a character as Abraham nor so lovable as Isaac, yet he is much more like the average man. The story of his days of willing service for Rachel (29:20); of Laban's deception and of his prosperity in spite of Laban, can be found in chapters 29 and 30, while that of his return to Canaan is contained in chapters 31-35. Though not included in the selected portion of Scripture, we do not see how anyone can teach this lesson and omit the consideration of chapter 32. We therefore see before us (1) Jacob's diplomacy, 32:1-8; (2) Jacob's prayer, 32:9-12; (3) Jacob's present to Esau, 32:13-23; and (4) Jacob's wrestling, 32:24-32.

A finger tip of God disabled Jacob, yet vanquished he is victorious for God—the angel of Jehovah—has taken from this double-dealing, crafty child that which hindered all that was truest in his life. Not by compelling but by yielding was Jacob enlarged; by submitting he found the throne of power. So much in preparation for the lesson of today.

Not a Coward.

I. The Approach—vv. 1-3. Jacob had just had a vision of God (32:30); why, then, should he fear the face of his brother? Even so, however, he continued his measures of precaution and separated his children into Leah and Rachel and sent the handmaids and their children ahead. Notice how he places his most loved in the rear of the procession which he himself led. Jacob was not a coward and, indeed, with his new-found power he had no need to be. Before he had fled from the face of his angry brother, now with boldness, and yet with humility, he enters the presence of that same brother even though he had had no assurance as to the character of that meeting.

II. The Meeting—vv. 4-11. Twenty-one years had passed, days of great testing but of great blessing, before Jacob began this homeward journey. Jacob had learned the "upward look" (v. 1) and his prevailing prayer brought Esau to him in haste but not in anger. Now Esau lifts up his eyes (v. 5) and beholds not the fugitive of old, but a transformed, prosperous and richly blessed brother. "Who are those with thee?" he asks, and Jacob at once acknowledges God as the giver and the blessing. (See 32:26; Jas. 1:17.) Jacob speaks of his children as God's gracious gifts. Although this is everywhere the teaching of the Bible, yet how often is it the modern view, at least in many circles of society. Following the children came the handmaids and their children, then Leah and her children, and last of all Rachel and Joseph. At once Esau inquires as to those gifts Jacob had sent ahead (32:13-21), and Jacob replies, "That I might find grace in the sight of my Lord." It is well to notice that Esau refused this gift (v. 11) as a purchase price of reconciliation.

Jacob Astute.

From the marginal reading we see that Jacob's words when urging Esau to accept his gift were: "Because I have all." Every child of God can truthfully say as much. (1 Cor. 3:21; Phil. 4:18, 19; Rom. 8:31, 32.) Thus we see the astute Jacob who had so arranged his affairs as to make gifts or not as might be necessary is surprised, not as at Bethel when he met God, but to find that God had so moved upon the heart of his brother as to remove for a time at least all danger.

III. The Separation, vv. 12-15. We infer from a study of Esau's life that Jacob did not deem it safe to make the proposed journey. "Discretion is the better part of valor." God does not demand nor desire rashness and needless danger upon the part of his children.

There are three main teachings in this lesson, aside from those of the preceding chapter. (1) That in matters of supreme importance in the life of any man God is interested and ready to lend his assistance. Jacob ready to lend his assistance.

(2) There is the lesson that while men with anxiety seek to make plans for the Kingdom it is only as they fully commit themselves to him and allow him to dominate and to guide will they spell success in their lives.

(3) And lastly, when God controls, when he has the victory in our hearts and our lives, he not only changes the attitude of our enemies towards us but changes our attitude towards them. (Rom. 12:20, 21.)

The Golden Text emphasizes this last thought. The only way we can possibly obey Paul's injunction will be as we are "in Christ Jesus." As we abide in, and recognizing the exceeding riches of his grace, as we recognize God's forgiveness as manifested in Christ Jesus; as we submit to him, we will be able to "be kind one to another."
